RAILROAD BILL UP FOR ACTION

Will Be Presented in Both Bodies Tomorrow, the House to Act First.

COMPLETE AGREEMENT

All Short Line Roads to Come Under Provisions of Act.

WASHINGTON, March 7.—The administration bill for the control of railroads during the war was prepared for final action by congress today reached complete agreement on differences in their respective measures.

Under the conferees' final agreement which will be presented in both bodies tomorrow and will be acted on first by the house, the period of government control of the railroads was limited to twenty-one months instead of the two year period of the house bill and the eighteen months' limit of the senate.

The bill, as finally accepted, provides that the amount of taxes on railroad property to be levied in the various states shall not exceed the ratio on such property for the year prior to the government control of the railroads.

The bill also provides that all short line railroads should come under the provisions of the act.

Rate Making Dispute.

The conferees settled their dispute over rate-making authority by giving the president power to initiate rates but subject to review by the interstate commerce commission as provided in the senate bill and requiring the commission to take into consideration the fact that the carriers are not in competition and also the president's recommendations of necessity for additional revenues.

The compromise substitute for the rate-making section drawn by Senator Robinson of Arkansas, follows:

"That during the period of federal control whenever in his opinion the public interest requires, the president may initiate rates, fares, charges, classifications, and practices by filing the same with the interstate commerce commission, which said rates, fares, charges, classifications, regulations and practices shall not be suspended by the commission pending final determination."

"Said rates shall be reasonable and

FRANCE MAKING BRAVE EFFORT

Million More Acres of Wheat Sown Last Fall Than in 1918.

PARIS, Jan. 25.—(Correspondence of the Associated Press).—France, without a "bumper" crop of corn, to fall back upon is making a brave effort to increase the yield of other food-stuffs and there are now for the first time signs that the effort is producing results.

Nearly a million more acres of wheat were sown last fall than in 1918, according to recently completed statistics. With ordinary good luck this means nearly 20,000,000 bushels more of wheat.

Spring seeding this year may exceed that of 1917 by nearly the same extent which will bring the French wheat crop this year up to 40,000,000 bushels more than that of last year. The bread card, taking effect January 29 was intended to save from food consumption the million bushels required for the extended seeding.

M. Comptre-Morel, commissary of agriculture, charged with the extension of seedings, has already divided 600,000 bushels of Manitoba wheat among farmers. He is confident important gains will be made in the crop of 1918.

The decision of the French food minister to issue cards regulating the distribution of bread to 200 grams (about 11 ounces) a day is causing much comment. Some criticize, others approve but the consensus of opinion may be summed up in the good natured remark of a morning paper which says "that for one man who dies of starvation there are a hundred who succumb to indigestion."

Generally however, the press seems to adopt a very serious point of view of the innovation. The French are notoriously the greatest bread eaters in the world and much doubt is expressed as to the ration of a little over a half a pound per day being sufficient.

France has another "Commissary of Agriculture," Monsieur Le Rouzic, deputy from the department of Morbihan, who is sometimes called the "Potato Dictator." He is charged by the minister of agriculture with direct supervision of planting with reference more especially to vegetables. He is trying to increase the production of beans as well as potatoes, and is especially encouraging the planting of topinambours, or Jerusalem artichokes.

LIQUOR AND VICE TO BE WIPED OUT

WASHINGTON, March 8.—Suspension of two federal district officials at Rock Island, Ill., by the department of justice, was considered officially an endorsement of the determination of the department to enforce strictly anti-liquor and vice regulations about army and navy camps. Field officers of the department will be expected to take action on their own initiative to remedy improper conditions, it was explained and not await prodding from the department.

Hundreds of prosecution of liquor vendors and persons violating the vice restrictions have been made, and recent reports indicate that conditions about most camps are good. The principal difficulties encountered in the clean-up movements were from city officials who refused in some cases to assist federal agents in enforcing the federal regulations.

The Rock Island situation became acute several weeks ago, soon after the ordnance training camp there was placed in the class of camps surrounded by liquor and vice barred zones. Agents of the department of justice visited Rock Island on receipt of complaints that saloons and immoral houses continued in operation. Accordingly, the department took direct action to order saloons closed and vice conditions abated.

District Attorney Knotts of the southern Illinois district, went to Rock Island today, according to department of justice reports to request Federal Judge Humphreys to name a special United States commissioner to expediate the trial of violators of the liquor law.

EXPERIENCE ON THE SUBMARINE

SALT LAKE, March 8.—There is little likelihood of a submarine duel being fought between any of the Yankee submarines and the German U-boats, according to Gordon Lee Jones, who is visiting his mother, Mrs. Gatty Jones of this city. Mr. Jones is in the United States navy and expects to be assigned to a submarine.

"I don't see how two of this type of warship could fight each other, since by the very nature of things they could not torpedo one another, which is their main method of fighting. However, they could both come to the surface and battle with their deck guns, which the larger submarines carry. But that would differ in no way from conflicts between torpedo boats and destroyers, and the outcome would hang on a lucky shot to a great extent."

"However, fighting is not the only excitement on board a submarine—at least that is what I would infer from practice cruises in these submarines. For there is a lot of exacting work to do and a great deal of responsibility for each member of the crew. Each man of the crew, which varies from fifteen to twenty-five men, has to know how to run the boat practically; that is, he must know how to stop or start the engines, how to fire the torpedo, how to manage the bulkheads, how to do those vitally essential things pertaining to maneuvering the vessel. Then, in case any member of the small crew is incapacitated, he can help in a crisis to win an engagement or weather a storm."

"One of the first things that interests the recruit on board a submarine, of course, is the work of 'diving,' which is complicated and has to be done with accuracy. It is not the swift matter of an instant that the experienced believes. It takes careful judgment and preparation, albeit that work is all done with rapidity. The single item of stopping the engines completely is one thing necessary, else a vacuum would be formed as the vessel descended and the crew would die. For once under water, we have to use the motors for propelling the craft. Two types of submarines, one the Lake, which sits on an even keel, the other the Holland, which literally dives nose first, are another thing which many people do not know about, never was seasick. But, believe me, there is plenty of chance for that operation. For a more tossed-about craft while it is on the surface in rough weather never existed than a submarine, and the moment it sinks into the calm of the depths, you face rather poor ventilation, of course, and the odor of the engine oil and the like makes it difficult to remain a 'submarine man,' as it were. The officers tell us we're picked men for this work—and I know that each member of a sub's crew is a petty officer. I have been promoted to gunner's mate and have enlisted for four years—by which time I should think the Germans would be exhausted on land and sea, as they can't hold out much longer, according to the talk of the naval officers I've heard."

WALSH URGES WAGE DEMANDS

Stockyards' Employees Should Be Granted All Six of Their Pleas.

CHICAGO, March 7.—Urging that all six of the demands of the men be granted, Attorney Frank P. Walsh today delivered his closing argument in the packers' wage arbitration.

In closing the case for the packers Attorney James G. Condon suggested that the arbitrator fix the working day for unskilled men at one hour more than for skilled labor so as to provide for the necessary clean up of the plants after killing and dressing beef.

The court room was crowded with stockyards' employees and their friends when Mr. Walsh began to speak.

"The children of these stockyard workers are hungry because their parents cannot earn a living wage," said Mr. Walsh. "They are insufficiently clad and insufficiently shod. The workmen are making a real sacrifice every day. What sacrifice are the packers making comparable with theirs?"

The assumption of the packers that they have the right to fix wages, the lawyer denounced as undemocratic. He extolled the virtues of labor unions and insisted on the right of collective bargaining for wages and conditions of service.

"Capital may not know it, but it is the labor union which is going to save their property and prevent a situation such as that which had demoralized Russia," said Mr. Walsh. "Many employers have not the vision to see what threatens them."

Mr. Walsh informed Judge Samuel Alschuler, the arbitrator, who has been a lawyer all his life, that an arbitrator in a labor dispute should be a man who works with his hands.

Attorney Frank P. Walsh said he believed in the settlement of labor troubles by arbitration until such time as there such a perfect balance of power between capital and labor that neither side can take advantage of the other.

He defended the investigation being made of the packers by Francis J. Heney for the federal trade commission and justified the use of confidential letters taken from the packers' private files in the present wage arbitration.

The packers, he said, have always opposed every attempt made to obtain decent working hours for their employees either by trade unions or in legislation. And the packers always act collectively in these matters. Attorney Walsh said. He cited the incident of the discharge of twenty-five men by Swift and company at its Denver plant which precipitated a strike, as evidence that the big packers do not hesitate to stop production, if necessary, despite government needs when their plans or profits are interfered with. He defined the action of the packers as sabotage.

CLASSIFICATION FOR NEXT DRAFT

WASHINGTON, March 7.—Reclassification according to physical condition of the men called in the next army draft is provided in revised instructions for medical boards which are being sent to the local boards throughout the country. The new regulations, made public tonight, require that every man summoned before the board shall be placed in one of the following four classes:

- (a) Acceptable for general military service.
- (b) Acceptable for general military service after being cured of remedial defects.
- (c) Acceptable for special or limited military service in a specified capacity or occupation.
- (d) Rejected and exempted from military service.

It is the intention of the provost marshal general to provide later for the further investigation and classification of the men acceptable for limited or special service, so that record may be made of the sort of work each of these men may be assigned to do without endangering his health.

Under the new regulations many ailments and defects which gained exemption of drafted men in the past now will result only in their being listed in group B. Such men, if they choose, will be given the privilege of securing the services of their family physicians in the effort to remove the defect, but if they have not availed themselves of this privilege within a specified time they will be called into military service and ordered to a cantonment base hospital, a reconstruction hospital, or to a civil hospital, as may be designated by the surgeon general.

HIGH TRIBUTE IS PAID WILSON

President States Ideals of Liberty and Humanity Better Than Any Man Living.

NEW YORK, March 7.—A high tribute to President Wilson was paid by Earl Reading, Great Britain's special ambassador to the United States, in an address which he made here today in the presence of 1200 members of the Merchants' association which gave a luncheon at which he was guest of honor.

Asserting that he doubted whether it was realized in Europe how signal was the moral force of this country in the prosecution of war for liberty and "a higher moral elevation for humanity," Earl Reading declared of the president:

"No human being has the faculty of stating in better language the true nature of those ideals than your president who speaks for you. We in Europe have learned to look to those words of his and to cherish them as representing to us the unalterable determination of America, once it has commenced war in vindication of right, never to sheath the sword until it has conquered. We know that the words spoken by your president are words upon which we can build. We do. They are messages of hope and comfort to us."

Stay off the damp ground, avoid exposure, keep feet dry, eat less meat, drink lots of water and above all take a spoonful of salts occasionally to keep down uric acid.

Rheumatism is caused by poisonous toxin, called uric acid, which is generated in the bowels and absorbed into the blood. It is the function of the kidneys to filter this acid from the blood and cast it out in the urine. The pores of the skin are also a means of freeing the blood of the impurity. In damp and chilly, cold weather the skin pores are closed, thus forcing the kidneys to do double work; they become weak and sluggish and fail to eliminate this uric acid, which keeps accumulating and circulating through the system, eventually settling in the joints and muscles, causing stiffness, soreness and pain called rheumatism.

At the first twinge of rheumatism get from any pharmacy about four ounces of Jad Salts; put a tablespoonful in a glass and drink before breakfast each morning for a week. This is said to eliminate uric acid by stimulating the kidneys to normal action, thus ridding the blood of these impurities.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, harmless and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithium and is used with excellent results by thousands of folks who are subject to rheumatism. Here you have a pleasant, effervescent lithia-water drink which overcomes uric acid and is beneficial to your kidneys as well.—Advertisement.
